Newark, Delaware

A 26,000-square-foot building for campus admissions and administration

The new Enrollment Services Center on the University of Delaware's Newark campus is set in a prominent location along South College Avenue across from the Morris Library. The two-story building accommodates an Admissions Visitor Center, as well as offices for financial aid services and the registrar. Mueller provided all mechanical, electrical, and plumbing services for the center; and used Revit® MEP to support building information modeling (BIM) for the project.

"We are pleased that Mueller has supported us in the use of Revit in MEP design."
